

Welcome to the new exhibition

Rosso, Klee, Sonnier & more

Since November 9, 2018, visitors are welcome for the third exhibition in the white-gleaming building of the Hilti Art Foundation, which is affiliated with the Kunstmuseum Liechtenstein. Until March 17, 2019, a total of 36 works from the art collection are presented, including some outstanding new acquisitions.

Art lovers can admire works by Medardo Rosso, Paul Klee, Keith Sonnier, Pablo Picasso, Piet Mondrian, Henri Matisse, Imi Knoebel, Max Beckmann, Wassily Kandinsky and more.

Curator Uwe Wieczorek has once again assembled a stunning selection of different styles and epochs dating from the late 19th century up to the present from the Hilti Art Foundation's internationally acclaimed art collection comprising of around 250 artworks. As in the past, some of the exhibits from the previous show continue to be on display: the presentation of an artwork in a new environment is meant to stimulate the art lover to view the piece literally from a different angle. The wide range of different artworks should enable each visitor to figure out his favorite piece of the exhibition.
